Expedition to the South Pole

If you like penguins, you'll love Scenic's cruises to Antarctica this winter. These are amazing voyage, with penguins sightings guaranteed (thousands of them!) and a very good chance to see whales, seals and sea birds, not to mention majestic snow-clad scenery and fabulous fjords. For a true adventure pick a voyage exploring Antarctica, the Falkland Islands and South Georgia. All are on Scenic Eclipse, a magnificent yacht built to take its 228 passengers to some of the most remote regions of the world in style and luxury.

Italy calling

Canals, culture and cooking are on the menu as Uniworld River Cruises says benvenuta to La Venezia, a new Super Ship sailing a, well, super itinerary that pairs four nights afloat in Venice with a voyage on Italy's Po River. There's an after-hours visit to St Mark's Basilica, tours of the Doge's Palace, excursions to medieval Padua, cycling in Choggia and pasta-making in Bologna and more. Phew! And all for free as Uniworld includes excursions in the cruise price. The cruises depart weekly between March and October 2021.

Cruising in the lap of luxury

There's nothing more glorious than the Mediterranean in summer. Except, of course, cruising to some of its historical towns and storied cities on one of the world's most luxurious ships where so much is included in the price (think excursions, drinks, tips, all dining and Wi-Fi) that passengers want for nothing. That'll be Regent Seven Seas Cruises' glamorous Seven Seas Voyager, a 700-passenger all-suite ship sailing an enviable collection of itineraries visiting Rome, Barcelona, Florence, Kotor, Marseille, Cassis and more.

A master at work

It's all about food as Oceania Cruises' executive culinary director, Chef Jacques Pepin, joins a voyage in the Baltic on Marina, a 1,250-passenger ship, next summer. If the thought of cooking demonstrations and signature menus prepared by the master himself don't get the mouth watering, there's plenty more set the taste buds tingling including calls into Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Russia, and free excursions (limits apply) and drinks. The voyage, from Copenhagen to Stockholm), departs August 29 2021, and costs from £2,839 per person including flights.

American starts a new revolution

What no paddlewheel? No indeed. American Cruise Lines revolutionary new European-style riverboats are light and airy, have large cabins, lots of glass, plenty of outdoor space and not a paddlewheel in sight. Three have launched; number four, American Melody, enters service on the Mississippi in summer 2021 along with a fifth, as yet unnamed. Itineraries dip into everything from Elvis and Mark Twain to wildlife and Civil War. If all appeal, ACL's Compete Mississippi Cruise has your name on it.

Let the Spirit take you

Wine guru Jilly Goolden. Broadcasters Alistair Stewart and John Sergeant. Radio Two DJ Johnnie Walker. Just four of the special guests that over-50's favourite Saga has lined up to join Spirit of the Rhine, a new 190-passenger river ship the company is launching next spring. First up is a six-night inaugural jaunt through Holland with the Bootleg Beatles and then she'll be off seeking out great towns, cities and wines on voyages along the Rhine, Main, Moselle and Danube.

To the ends of the earth

Ponant makes history next spring when it launches a hybrid polar expedition vessel capable of going where few passenger ships have gone before. Named Le Commandant Charcot after French polar scientist Jean-Baptist Charcot, the ship will be powered by an eco-friendly combination of liquefied natural gas and electric engines, have an on-board science lab, a heated indoor pool and private balconies for all cabins and suites. Go in August for an expedition to the geographical North Pole.

Thrills and chills

Immersive adventures await – literally – as Crystal Cruises sets out to discover the world in luxury on Crystal Endeavor, a sleek expedition yacht with a submarine and helicopters that explore beneath and above the ocean. She holds just 200 passengers and is equally at home sharing icy polar waters with giant icebergs or exploring hotspots in Australia, Asia and South America. Go in May 2021 to explore Japan's culture or in August next year for an epic voyage through the remote Northeast Passage.

Marvel-ous music on the Rhine

Calling all Aled Jones fans. The Welsh singer and presenter will be performing an exclusive concert in Cologne's Trinity Church on day three of a special Rhine and Moselle cruise with APT's Travelmarvel next spring. The voyage, from Amsterdam to Basel in Switzerland, is on the Travelmarvel Capella, a new 182-passenger river ship. There'll be castles, cathedrals and canals galore, as well as a chance to tuck into Black Forest gâteau in the village from whence it came. The voyage is eight days departing April 16 2021.
